

VL Action Network Partners with Bang Data With New Video of Classic Track “Fortunate Son”

Watch new video urging Latinos to register to vote HERE

WASHINGTON, D.C. - August 23, 2016 - VL Action Network has partnered with Oakland-based band Bang Data to register voters ahead of a critical election year in which 27 million Latinos will be eligible to vote.

"We all have to get out and vote and those that can't because of their status should make sure their friends and family that can, register and do it!" said Juan Manuel Caipo, producer and instrumentalist of Bang Data.

Bang Data's cover of the Creedence Clearwater Revival classic "Fortunate Son" is a part of a cross-cultural project, Quiero Creedence, a Spanish Language tribute to the roots of the classic rock band.

###

About VL Action Network

VL Action Network, formerly the Voto Latino Action Fund, is a 501(c)(4) organization committed to promoting Latino voices in politics by countering false information and supporting leaders that advocate for progress, equality, and fairness for all American communities.

About Bang Data

Led by vocalist Deuce Eclipse—known as an associate of Oakland hip-hop duo Zion I—and producer/instrumentalist Juan-Manuel Caipo, Oakland-based group Bang Data performs a unique bilingual blend of Latin, alternative, hip-hop, reggae, rock, Afro and electro. The group's songs have been used in TV and film, with its self-titled single "Bang Data" featured on the hit AMC TV drama Breaking Bad in 2011.

